

In Dublin recognition to Federico Fabbrini for studies on the EU

Ambassador Faganello at the ceremony at the Irish university

LONDON, LONDON, 11 April 2025, 14:44

Redazione ANSA

Share Share

↑ - RESERVED REPRODUCTION

The Italian Ambassador to Dublin, Nicola Faganello, took part at Dublin City University - Dcu at the ceremony in which Professor Federico Fabbrini, Ordinary of European Law, Founding Director of Brexit Institute/ Dublin European Law Institute, and also knight of the Italian Republic, has been awarded by the President of the university, Daire Keogh, of the prestigious 'President Research Impact Award', an award for his studies on European integration and outstanding results obtained in research in this area.

Confirming the significant presence of professors and Italian researchers in the university and the notable potential for further strengthening of the excellent collaboration started with the university, on the same occasion Faganello had the opportunity to meet and Congratulate the compatriot Silvia Giordani, professor Ordinary and President for Nanomaterials of Dcu, whose team, as recently noted by the Irish media, is Gaining innovative and promising results in development of chemotherapy with fewer side effects.

The method of administration of the drug based on nanotechnology used and developed by Giordani, in fact, administer a greater amount of medication directly to the 'target', with less collateral damage to healthy cells Surroundings.